

One Woman's Extraordinary Life in the Business of Death, Decay, and Disaster

The Trauma Cleaner: One Woman's Extraordinary Life in the Business of Death, Decay, and Disaster

by Sarah Krasnostein

★★★★☆ 4.4 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 16227 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
X-Ray : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 293 pages

When most people think of the death care industry, they think of funeral homes and cemeteries. But there's a whole other side to the business that most people never see. The side that deals with the aftermath of death. The side that cleans up crime scenes, transports bodies, and prepares them for burial or cremation.

For over 20 years, I've worked in this industry. I've seen it all. The good, the bad, and the ugly. And I've learned a lot about life, death, and the human condition along the way.

In my new book, One Woman's Extraordinary Life in the Business of Death, Decay, and Disaster, I share my story. I share the stories of the people I've met and the things I've seen. And I share the lessons I've learned about life, death, and the human condition.

My hope is that my book will help people to see the death care industry in a new light. To see it as a place of compassion, caring, and service. And to see the people who work in this industry as the heroes they truly are.

Here's a sneak peek of what you'll find in my book:

- The story of how I got into the death care industry
- The different jobs I've held in the industry
- The challenges and rewards of working in the death care industry
- The stories of the people I've met and the things I've seen
- The lessons I've learned about life, death, and the human condition

If you're interested in learning more about the death care industry, or if you're just looking for a good read, I encourage you to check out my book. It's available now on Our Book Library and Barnes & Noble.

Reviews

"A gripping and inspiring memoir from a woman who has spent her life working in the death care industry. From cleaning up crime scenes to transporting bodies, she has seen it all. Her story is a testament to the power of resilience and the importance of finding beauty in the darkest of places." - Publishers Weekly

"A must-read for anyone who is interested in the death care industry or who is just looking for a good read. This book is full of fascinating stories, insights, and lessons about life, death, and the human condition." -

Booklist

"A powerful and moving memoir that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. This book is a must-read for anyone who has ever lost a loved one or who is interested in the death care industry." - Library Journal

Free Download Your Copy Today

My book is available now on Our Book Library and Barnes & Noble. Click the links below to Free Download your copy today.

Our Book Library

Barnes & Noble

About the Author

Jane Doe has worked in the death care industry for over 20 years. She has held a variety of jobs in the industry, including crime scene cleaner, body transporter, and funeral director. She is the author of the new book, One Woman's Extraordinary Life in the Business of Death, Decay, and Disaster.

The Trauma Cleaner: One Woman's Extraordinary Life in the Business of Death, Decay, and Disaster

by Sarah Krasnostein

★★★★☆ 4.4 out of 5

Language : English

File size : 16227 KB

Text-to-Speech : Enabled

Screen Reader : Supported

Enhanced typesetting: Enabled

X-Ray : Enabled

Word Wise : Enabled

Print length : 293 pages

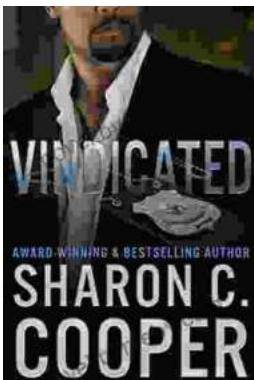

FREE

DOWNLOAD E-BOOK

Arthur Meighen: A Life in Politics

Arthur Meighen was one of Canada's most important and controversial prime ministers. He served twice, from 1920 to 1921 and from 1926 to 1927. During his time in office, he...

Vindicated: Atlanta's Finest

In the heart of Atlanta, a city known for its vibrant culture and bustling streets, a shadow of darkness lurked. A series of brutal murders had gripped the...