A Call to Action

Dr. Tom Catena, a dedicated American physician, was drawn to the war-torn region of Sudan by a profound sense of empathy and a deep-seated desire to help those most in need. Witnessing the devastating effects of conflict and abject poverty, he made a life-altering decision: he would dedicate his time and resources to providing medical care and protection to the innocent victims of war.

Perilous Beginnings

Arriving in the remote village of Gidel in 2007, Dr. Catena faced a formidable challenge. The region was ravaged by conflict and disease, with limited access to healthcare and infrastructure. Undeterred, he established a basic clinic, known as the Mother of Mercy Hospital, in a dilapidated mud hut.

Despite the meager conditions, Dr. Catena's presence brought a flicker of hope to the war-torn community. He treated patients with compassion and determination, often working under dire circumstances with nothing more than a flashlight and basic medical supplies.

Unwavering Dedication

As the conflict escalated, Dr. Catena's hospital became a sanctuary for the vulnerable. He provided medical care to countless children, many of whom were orphaned or severely injured. He also offered shelter and protection to those fleeing the violence, creating a safe haven amidst the chaos.

However, Dr. Catena's mission was not without its dangers. The hospital was frequently targeted by armed groups, and Dr. Catena himself faced death threats and intimidation. Despite the ever-present risk, he refused to abandon his patients, choosing to stay and fight for their survival.

A Global Appeal

Word of Dr. Catena's selfless work eventually reached the international community. Moved by his unwavering compassion and the dire situation he faced, people around the world began to offer their support. Donations poured in, allowing Dr. Catena to expand his hospital and provide even more comprehensive care to the children of Sudan.

In 2015, Dr. Catena's extraordinary efforts were recognized by the United Nations, who awarded him the prestigious Nansen Refugee Award. This international accolade brought even greater attention to his work and the plight of the children he served.

A Lasting Legacy

Today, Dr. Catena continues his mission in Sudan, providing vital healthcare and protection to those who need it most. His hospital has become a beacon of hope in a region ravaged by conflict.
