Baptism of Jesus

John's most renowned act is the baptism of Jesus at the Jordan River. John's baptism not only marked the beginning of Jesus' ministry but also symbolized the spiritual purification of humanity.

Preaching and Criticism

As a prophet, John preached a message of repentance and forgiveness, urging people to prepare their hearts for the coming of the Messiah. However, his fearless critique of the ruling elite and their corrupt practices earned him the ire of Herod Antipas, the tetrarch of Galilee.

Herodias, Herod's wife, held a grudge against John for rebuking Herod's marriage to her. On her daughter's birthday, she persuaded Herod to imprison John. As the festivities progressed, she requested the head of John the Baptist as a reward for her daughter's dance performance. Herod reluctantly agreed, and John was beheaded in prison.
